Steve Kendall was introduced to handwriting analysis while living in Europe in 1972. Fascinated with the topic he became a certified analyst in 1979. Over the years, Steve has taught classes, spoken to business and community groups and has been interviewed in a variety of newspapers. He was the featured guest on several radio and television shows including a live broadcast focusing on the Presidential Elections. Let Steve's years of experience open your eyes to the hidden treasures of what lies inside you and your personality.
